On the Western Front

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Oct. 30.—Satisfaction with the decision of Great Britain and France to help the Italians is expressed by most of the morning newspapers which again urge that whatever assistance is possible must be given without delay. There is, of course, no certain indication of the exact form this help will take, but the general assumption seems to be that concrete reinforcements contributed by Great Britain and France will appear on the Italian front.

The morning Post however, contends that the best way of helping Italy is to keep hammering the Germans on the western front. It adds: "German victory over the Italians will not help them if we keep striking hard in Flanders. It is a maxim in war never to allow the strategy to be diverted to the enemy and every move of our enemy now is to attempt to create a diversion from the western front."

Taking the view that the German success is due partly to treachery and that the Germans are using the same tools in Italy as those with which the Russian armies were betrayed the Post declares:

"Let our statesmen awake and counter these activities. This may be of even more service than any military aid we can render."

The Post, nevertheless, assumes that such military aid as can be given without weakening the pressure on the western front also will be furnished and urges the Italians to hold on until succor arrives.

While some commentators today take a somewhat gloomy view of the situation, others believe that the Italians will recover and that the Germans will not gain any permanent advantage. The Daily Express says:

"Germany has made a gambler's move and won the first coup. That's all. We may wait and see what will happen without misgiving."

The Daily Telegraph, while fearing that the German claims to have shaken the whole Italian front is justified, is persuaded that the perilous situation will inspire the defenders to a harder determination. It adds:

"Because the enemy has succeeded in effecting a surprise, there is no reason to suppose that he will be as successful in the plains or before the strong positions like the Tagliamento." ... General Cadorna will know how to counter the present violent attacks and snatch victory out of the jaws of danger. There is no reason for despair."

CHICAGO OPPOSED TO SHORT SCHEDULE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Oct. 30.—The question of a shorter playing schedule for the major leagues and the possibility of a third major league as a war measure was revived today with the return of B. B. Johnson, president of the American League.

There will, however, be opposition to the proposed 140-game schedule, as Charles A. Comisky, owner of the Chicago White Sox, has already expressed his disapproval of any shorter schedule than 154 games. It is said that two other club-owners in the American League also will oppose a short schedule.

"A new league might benefit the game during the war, and it should be considered a war measure exclusively," said Mr. Johnson. "It is a certainty that the minor leagues will have to make some adjustments next season in order to get by. They cannot go on as they have been doing in the past."

He did not indicate what cities might be grouped into a new league.

PUBLIC MEETING
TO DEMAND PROBE
OF HORSEWHIPPING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, Oct. 30.—A public meeting to protest against the abduction and horsewhipping of Herbert S. Bigelow Sunday night will be held in Newport, Ky., tomorrow night. According to plans formulated today resolutions will be adopted calling on the mayor and the commissioners of Newport and also on the governor of Kentucky to make every possible effort to apprehend the members of the so-called Ku Klux party and bring them to justice.

Today the authorities were without a definite clue as to the identity of the band of men who were responsible for the horsewhipping of Bigelow. In Newport the city and county officials appear to be at a loss as to what course to pursue in view of the fact that no formal complaint or charge has been filed.

Bigelow remained at the hospital today. He is suffering severely from the lacerations caused by the whipping and from nervous shock.

His physician said he would not be able to leave the hospital for a week or longer.

GRAND JURY HEARING
EVIDENCE IN MEANS CASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Concord, N. C., Oct. 30.—A bill of indictment charging Gaston B. Means with the murder of Mrs. Maud A. King, the wealthy widow, remained before the Cabarrus county grand jury today, presentation of the state's evidence having been begun yesterday. Mrs. King was shot and killed near here August 29 last, while on a visit to relatives of Means, her business agent. The state brought a corps of Chicago and New York pathologists and experts here for the preliminary hearing at which Means was held without bail for the grand jury, and these witnesses returned to appear before the grand jury. Previous to investigations in New York and Chicago, a local coroner's jury had returned a verdict that Mrs. King accidentally shot herself.

Impossible PropositionDENIES ALLIES WISHED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 29.—Foreign Minister Terestchenko in addressing the preliminary parliament today said a separate peace was impossible and that defense of Russian territory was one of the fundamental needs.

The foreign minister said the absolute independence of Courland and perhaps of Poland and Lithuania was impossible, as it would mean that Russia would return to the days before Peter. He also asserted complete demobilization and disarmament and neutralization of canals and straits were impossible.

Russia's foreign policy had not changed, the minister continued, since the first statement enunciating the principles of no indemnities, no annexations and the right of nations to self-definition.

"The people must understand that war is being carried on not by governments but by nations," he added. "As the nations began the fighting so they must end it. Russia and France first held back the foe, and so they continue."

M. Terestchenko declared that the offers for a separate peace and the sentiment in favor of them were strongest last May when they were followed by the Russian offensive.

"There is a rumor that the allies wished to leave Russia to her fate," the foreign minister continued, "but I state officially that it is untrue."

"Germany's aim is to separate Russia from the allies and if possible to do this by peaceful means in order to use Russia economically afterward. While nations at war are unable to continue civil industries, Germany has been so well organized from the beginning that she has been able to keep up her efforts to carry on trade. She looks upon Russia as her market. Therefore, the defense of Russian territory is one of the fundamental needs now, for if Germany gets into Russia commercially after the war we shall have no self definition afterwards."

In regard to the forthcoming conference of the allies at Paris, M. Terestchenko said it must be remembered that Russia should forget politics there and be represented as a nation. He characterized some points of the peace terms of the soldiers' and workmen's delegates as impossible, saying they could not be defended as the nation's terms. It was in this connection that he made his reference to Courland, Poland and Lithuania, and to the impossibility of neutralizing canals and straits and disarming completely.

"There never has been more peace-talk in Germany and Austria than now," said the minister. "I am confident Germany was insincere in the reported offer for the freedom of Belgium without the freedom of Alsace-Lorraine and in the intimation that this would be her last offer. She will make more."

"Germany is now concentrating her efforts to affect her enemies economically. For instance, her attack on Riga was not strategic but in pursuance of a far-sighted policy of striking at our weakest point, hoping to ruin the economic life of the country. Too much importance must not be given today's Italian defeat, as this also is for mere economic effect."

M. Terestchenko's speech was cheered throughout by the Conservatives, but he was heckled more than applauded by the Bolsheviks. The American, British and Italian ambassadors were present when the speech was delivered.

FRENCH POLICE RAID
NEWSPAPER OFFICES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Monday, 29.—Continuing their efforts to obtain evidence of the supposed royalist plot, the police today raided the office in Lyons, Bordeaux and other provincial cities of L'Action Francaise, the royalist organ, whose editor, Leon Daudet, is under investigation. Offices of an affiliated newspaper also were searched and quantities of documents were seized.

SLAME ENEMY PROPAGANDA
FOR LOW SUBSCRIPTIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Oct. 30.—The federal government has started an inquiry into the activity of pro-German and pacifist propaganda conducted in those districts of Illinois that failed to support the second Liberty Loan. Joseph B. Fleming, assistant district attorney, is in charge of the investigation. No county in Illinois fell below ten per cent of its allotment, but it was said today, several counties were financially able to subscribe far more than they did.

GREAT AUSTRO-GERMAN OFFENSIVE
THREATENS ITALIANS WITH DISASTER

Black line shows Italy's farthest advance, October 10; dotted line shows position of battle line today.

After a campaign against Trieste in which the Italians lost thousands of men they penetrated Austrian territory extending from north of Tolmino (1) south to Udine (2) on the Adriatic, including the city of Gorizia (3). On the coast of the Adriatic they were within twelve miles of Trieste (4).

Last week the Austrians, with great reinforcements from Germany under Field Marshal Von Mackensen began counter attacks which have developed into an Austro-German offensive. The Italians have been driven back from the positions in Austria, evacuating the Bainsizza plateau (5). The armies of the central powers have retaken Gorizia and have advanced into Italy at least as far as Cividale (6) and are threatening Udine (7), only ninety miles northeast of Venice.

The Germans and Austrians first broke through the Italian lines at Ronzina (8).

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the American Army in France, Monday, Oct. 29.—

The weather was clear and cold today in the American sector.

U-BOAT CAPTAIN
SPENDS NIGHT AT
HOTEL IN DUBLIN

Base of American Flotilla in British Waters, Oct. 16.—(By Mail)—There is a German submarine commander who is known throughout the American flotilla as "Kelly." His real name is something quite different, but the American sailors promptly dubbed him "Kelly of the Emerald Isle." And the name will stick in the songs and stories of the navy as long as the great war is talked about.

"Kelly" earned his Irish name by his display on various occasions of a rich vein of quite un-German humor. He has become the hero of numberless stories told in forecastle staterooms and on the deck. These poor fishermen were in no mood for this latest display of German humor, so they, according to report, promptly burned the flag and set a watch for "Kelly."

first they could not make out just what it was. But when they made sure that it was the German colors they were furious, for it so happened, so the story goes, that the fishermen along this particular strip of coast had suffered much from submarine raids. U-boats had shelled their boats, Germans had stolen their fish, their only means of livelihood, and left them empty-handed after a week's hard catch of mackerel.

These poor fishermen were in no mood for this latest display of German humor, so they, according to report, promptly burned the flag and set a watch for "Kelly."

ALLIES WILL NOT
TALK WAR AIMS
AT PARIS PARLEY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Oct. 30.—Andrew Bonar Law's declaration in the house of commons that war aims will not be discussed at the coming allied conference and that only questions pertinent to the prosecution of the war will be taken up, agrees with the understanding of the United States government. A definition and co-ordination of military effort is the chief object, made more than timely by results of the Austro-German drive into Italy.

One predominant question concerns food and supplies whether for soldiers or civilians and how to get them to the right place in the quickest possible time.

The effect of the war on the politics of the world are to have no place in the deliberations.

TREASURY GETS
FIRST PAYMENT
ON LIBERTY LOANExpect Billion Dollars Will

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Oct. 30.—Total October expenditures by the government have swept past the billion dollar mark by $13,923,230, and indications are that the grand total for the entire month will approximate $1,200,000,000, of which $470,000,000 is represented by loans to the allies.

First receipts from the second sale of Liberty Bonds reached the treasury today. The amount, $124,590,753 reported by the federal reserve banks, represents a portion of the initial two per cent sent by subscribers with application and a small part of the money received for actual cash sale.

The banks have until next Thursday to deposit with federal reserve banks the full first payments and the cash sales. At least $1,000,000,000, it is thought, will be in the government's hands by that time, as thousands of sales, especially of bonds of smaller denominations were made for cash.

Final adjustment of payments for bonds of the first Liberty Loan virtually has been completed. Although the final payment on first Liberty Bonds was due August 30, hundreds of subscribers failed for various reasons to make them. In some cases after paying one or two installments subscribers failed to pay the remainder and these sales together with others on which the final payment was delayed for other reasons had to be adjusted.

It is believed that the last dollar due the government on Liberty Bonds of the first issue will be in the treasury not later than Nov. 1.

Subscriptions reported today to the treasury's offering of certificates of indebtedness ran the grand total for the issue so far up to $429,974,000 and made a new record.

The offering is still open and indications are that subscriptions will exceed $500,000,000. Today's receipts from subscriptions to the certificates and payments on the second Liberty Loan swelled the balance in the treasury to $785,374,631, the highest record since the first Liberty Loan campaign.

FRANCE GETS LOAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Oct. 30.—Ten million dollars more was advanced to France today by the government bringing credits to the allies to the total of $2,366,400,000.

CHICAGO 630 MILLIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Oct. 30.—Chicago subscribed to the second Liberty loan at the rate of $80 per capita, according to estimates of local tabulators today. The maximum allotment was $75.23. Although tabulations from the seventh federal reserve district will not be complete until probably Thursday night, estimates place the total subscriptions at $650,000,000, or about 93 per cent of the maximum allotment.

CANADIAN EXCHANGES
CLOSED FOR AN HOUR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Montreal, Oct. 30.—As a measure to prevent brokers from being forced into liquidation on account of the recent weak markets, the Montreal Stock Exchange decided this morning to revert to the minimum price system which was in use for a time when the exchange re-opened after closing on account of the war with Germany.

The failure of the exchange to open at the usual hour today gave rise to reports that brokers with heavy holdings were confronted with ruin. It was officially stated, however, that none of these brokers is actually on the brink of failure. The exchange opened an hour later. The minimum prices adopted today are those prevailing at the close of the market yesterday.

NOT FOR CONQUEST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—The Austro-German offensive against Italy, according to the Vorwarts of Berlin, was not undertaken in an aggressive spirit with the object of conquest, but solely to bring peace nearer.

Toledo, Oct. 30.—Food conservation will be the principal topic at the annual meeting on Dec. 12 and 13 of the Ohio State Hotel Association, at which an attendance of 250 is expected. Most of the large restaurateurs here served meatless meals today for the first time.

ATTACK ON YPRES FRONT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Oct. 30.—The Germans have been driven back in places to a depth of nearly 1,000 yards in today's British drive on the Ypres front, Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports.

The principal fighting is taking place towards the outskirts of Passchendaele and in the region of Poelcapelle. The British are reported to have fought their way along several important spurs of the advancing enemy. The Canadians quickly gained a great part of their objectives.

The fighting today was on a more limited front than the battle of last Friday. The weather was fine.

RETREAT CONTINUES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Oct. 30.—The Italian retreat continued yesterday, the war office announces. The Italian cavalry is in contact with the vanguard of the advancing enemy.

The Italians destroyed bridges over the Isonzo and fought rear guard actions, by which means they checked the Austro-German advance. The announcement follows:

"During yesterday the withdrawal of our troops on their new positions was continued. Destruction of the bridges over the Isonzo, effected by our troops, and the successful action of our covering units have delayed the advance of the enemy."

"Our cavalry is in contact with the hostile vanguards."

UDINE IS OCCUPIED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Oct. 30, via London.—Udine, the former Italian headquarters has been occupied by Austro-German forces, army headquarters announced.

The Austrians and Germans are pressing forward irresistibly in the northern Italian plain towards the course of the Tagliamento river, the statement says. Austro-German troops, advancing from the Carnic Alps have reached Venetian soil on the whole front and are pressing forward against the upper course of the Tagliamento.

The retirement of the defeated Italian army is being stemmed at the few crossings of the river which is greatly swollen.

REAR GUARD IS FIGHTING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Oct. 30.—General Cadorna is bending every effort to retard the forceful Austro-German advance on the Isonzo front while he effects a retirement to the strong line of the Tagliamento river. His cavalry is reported today in close touch with the enemy, who has been further hampered in this forward movement by the strong resistance of the Italian rear guards and the destruction of the bridges over the Isonzo.

The Teutonic center, which yesterday was reported nearing Udine, the former Italian general headquarters has now entered that place. More menacing to Cadorna's purposes than this movement, however, seems the thrust on his left flank against the upper reaches of the Tagliamento.

The hope of the German command apparently is to reach this northern section of the intended line and turn it before the more southerly Italian forces and fall back to the river so as to establish themselves there. Berlin indicates a steady advance by the Austro-German columns toward this objective.

GERMAN AIR RAID

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Oct. 30.—Lord French, commander of the British home forces, today announced that the German airplanes which last night attempted to carry out a raid on the southeast counties of England, did no damage and caused no casualties. All the British machines which went up to engage the raiders landed safely.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF DENISON DIES IN FLORIDA HOME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Providence, R. I., Oct. 20.—The death of Interlachen, Fla., of Dr. Elsie Benjamin Andrews, formerly president of Brown University, and later chancellor of the University of Nebraska, was announced in telegrams received here today.

Dr. Andrews, who was 73 years of age, died early today. Broken in health after 37 years of service as an educator, he moved to Florida after resigning as chancellor of the University of Nebraska in 1903, to become chancellor emeritus. The message conveying news of his death was sent by his son, G. A. Andrews.

As a volunteer in the Connecticut forces in the Civil War, Dr. Andrews, a native of New Hampshire, saw active service. At the close of the war he entered Brown University and was graduated four years later, with distinguished honors. Later he entered Newton Theological Seminary, was ordained a minister of the Baptist church and preached one year, resigning to become president of Denison University at Gravelle, O. He was subsequently a member of the faculty at Brown University and Cornell, and was president of Brown from 1889 to 1898.

During the Bryan-McKinley campaign in 1896 Dr. Andrews, in private letters to western graduates of the university approved the free coinage of silver. These letters were made public in the heat of the campaign and a year later a committee of the corporation was named to confer with him with a view of restraining his utterances on politics and economics.

From Brown Dr. Andrews went to Chicago as superintendent of schools, later serving eight years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska. In 1907 he received pension from the Carnegie foundation as a reward of his life's work.

Dr. E. B. Andrews was president of Denison University from 1875 to 1879, and a telegram was received by Dr. Clark W. Chamberlain, president of the college today, stating that the body had been brought to Gravelle for burial. The college trustees by a special vote have arranged for the burial in the college cemetery on College Hill, Gravelle.

SALVATION ARMY IN WAR WORK AT CAMP; BUILD PLAY ROOMS

A fine building, "Soldiers' Rest," has been erected by the Salvation Army at Camp Sherman, the building being located on the main road leading to the camp. It is two-stories high, quarters for the workers being arranged on the second floor, while the first floor is laid out for an auditorium for religious work and entertainment, and a game and reading-room for the soldiers. A lunch-room also is provided where soldiers may get good things to eat.

The plans for the building were drawn by Adjutant A. B. Figgins in charge of the Newark army work. He also superintended the construction work which was done by workers who spent their vacations on the job. A tennis court will be added when the weather permits such sport.

The Salvation Army is doing much work in the army camps as well as in the war-zone. There are numerous "huts" in France for the comfort of the soldiers. One Ohio man—Adjutant Hughes of Akron—has been called for work in France, and is already on his way to the front.

EXTRA POLICE TO KEEP HALLOWE'EN REVELERS ORDERLY

Youngsters who start out for Halloween pranks would do well to watch their conduct carefully or a plain clothes "goblin" is likely to reach out of the darkness and nab them. The police are instructed to be particularly watchful for those who write obscene inscriptions on windows, who use grain or other food in throwing at houses, and who destroy property.

These are war times and wastage of food or destruction of property is conceded to be unpatriotic and almost treasonable. This reason an unusually large number of plain clothes officers will be on duty for the next few nights to nab the youngsters who violate these orders. The officers have instructions not to interfere with wholesome and harmless amusement but food waste and property destruction are not classed as harmless. There never was any excuse for indulging in obscenities in Halloween pranks and the full limit of the law is in store for those youngsters who violate any of the police injunctions.

"Parents will not be held free from blame," said Mayor Bigbee today. "If they allow their children out of their sight while these depredations are being committed and the children are caught by the officers, the parents will have to suffer with the children."

GEN. GROSVENOR IS DEAD; PROMINENT IN OHIO POLITICS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Athens, O., Oct. 20.—General Charles H. Grosvenor, former representative from the Eleventh Ohio district died at his home here early today, aged 84, after a long illness. General Grosvenor, for many years a noted figure in Republican politics in Ohio, and for twenty years a member of congress, had been failing in health for several years and with the exception of an occasional appearance in court in the practice of his professional law duties, had rarely left his home. He had not taken an active part in political affairs in Ohio since 1906 when he was defeated for congress in his district by Albert Douglas of Chillicothe.

WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR FOOD PLEDGES; WORK IS DIVIDED

An organization was affected on Monday in Newark for the food pledge week, which has been instigated by the national food dictator, and at a meeting held yesterday, the captains, lieutenants or chairmen were named.

The town has been divided according to the wards and precincts and every man, woman and child in the city will be asked to sign the pledge cards. Not only will the housekeeper be approached but every member of the family will be asked to pledge themselves and the canvass for these pledges started today.

The chairmen for the various wards are: Mrs. C. F. Legge, sixth ward; Mrs. Charles Spencer, fifth ward; Mrs. Harry Scott, fourth ward; Mrs. J. M. Mitchell, third ward; Mrs. E. E. Moore, second ward and Mrs. Henry Fleck, first ward. There will be a captain of every precinct in the city and a large corps of workers will assist in obtaining the pledges.

The reports will be made to William Morgan who is chairman of the Licking County Food Conservation League, and the campaign for pledges will continue over until next week.

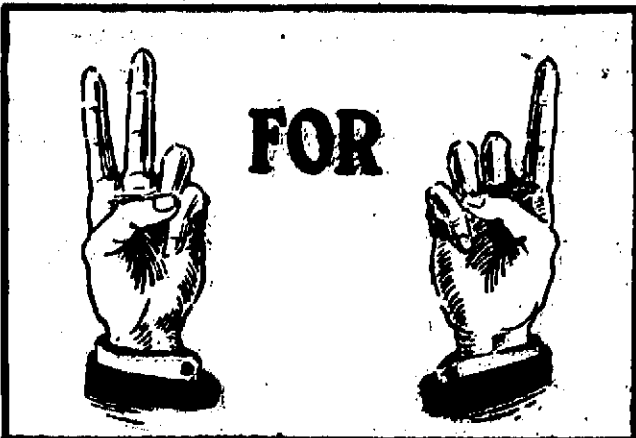

The text of the pledge is as follows: "I am glad to join you in securing food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the U. S. food administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the food administration in the conduct of my household insofar as my circumstances permit."

Cards have been sent to the various churches asking for meatless and wheatless meals, and they are to be signed giving an account of how many such meals were served.

The campaign of conservation is to save sugar and fats, and to substitute other things on the menus for meat.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIER BOYS

Mrs. John Hiser of Granville street has received the following letter from her son at Camp Grant, Ill. The young man who is sergeant in the office of the Division Surgeon is a grandson of Captain John Hiser, civil war veteran. He says: This will be a very short letter in comparison to the ones I have been writing but as I write so often I have run short of data. I have been in this camp about three months, but have never told you what it was like. To begin with it is more like a small town than anything else, with its streets running this way and that way through the camp, all streets being named or numbered. The main streets are pass on Saturday noon, and return Sunday night at 10:15. Believe me we all are glad to return in good time. We all hope to see the Kaiser soon. There were several people here from Newark Sunday. Ora L. Weekley says he has gained 10 pounds in five weeks. We have a real nice lot of officers here. John Davis says he is right at home here. With best wishes to the people of Newark and Licking county, I remain, Wesley D. Weekley, Union Station, Bat. B, 324th Reg., H. F. A. Camp Sherman.

NEWARK SOLDIERS, GOODBYE.
Good-bye to home and loved ones. For we leave for war behind us. We will soon be across the water somewhere across the line.

Uncle Sammy's men are real men. They are men that's true and strong. And when we get the Kaiser. It is true he won't last long.

We are all brave soldier boys. And will do our very best. And when we get the Kaiser. We'll lay him away to rest. Then we'll return with our old flag. The flag we saved for you. And we will live in peace once more. With our old flag, the red, white and blue.

Then old glory shall float forever. Over the land and ocean too. That our soldier boys have fought for. Our old red, white and blue. HARRY RICHARDS.
Company B, 324 H. F. A. Camp Sherman.

Col. Cliff Rosebraugh has just received a letter from First Sergeant James Carmack, Co. I, 166th U. S. I. Hempstead, N. Y., saying in part: "Received your welcome letter today. . . . Rosey, we are still here but do not know when we are going to leave. We have nothing in our possession except what we carry on a hike. . . . We had one of the worst rain and wind storms the other day you ever saw. All of the tents were mostly blown down and everything soaked through. I did not have a dry stitch on and the worst of it was it was so awful cold. We have just got our tents straightened out again. There was nobody staying in the first and second battalions tents so there was not single tent standing. All were torn to pieces. Our greatest trouble was we are camped on a sand hill and the stakes pulled out. New York is some place. You almost break your neck looking halfway up some of the buildings, but I would not like to stay here. I prefer the extreme west. We are 40 miles from New York City. . . ."

Sergt. Carmack was the last of the enlisted men here on recruiting service in the booth on the south side of the square with Capt. Oscar Koepfel, Fourth Ohio Headquarters company ammunition train, military police and hospital service. He was a private then, but is now first sergeant of his company.

MONK PROPHECIED GREAT WAR 200 YEARS AGO

A prophecy, said to have been made 200 years ago by a monk, in a monastery at Vismar, island of Gothland, in the Baltic Sea, is being fulfilled with startling accuracy. An Akron boy in England sent a copy of the prophecy to his mother, and a copy was sent to Mrs. Friend Jones of Eighth street. It is as follows: "Europe will some day, when the seat of the Pope is vacant, meet in a terrible battle. Seven nations will turn themselves against a bird with two heads. The bird will defeat itself with wings and talons. A monarch who always mounts his horse from the wrong side will be surrounded by a wall of foes. It will be a tough struggle between east and west, and the lives of many men will be lost. "War chariots shall roll forward without horses and fire dragons shall fly through the sky and spread fire and sulphur and destroy towns. "Mankind shall not listen to the forbodings of God and He shall turn away from them. The war shall last three years and five months. Starvation and disease will follow.

"Bread will be controlled and distributed among the people. Men will be lurking in the bottom of the seas for their prey. The war will start when the corn is ripening in the fields and reach its maximum pitch when the cherry trees are blooming for the third time. Peace will be obtained about Christmas."

THE Detroit ELECTRIC
Today's Car of Utility and Economy

30 Fine Gas Cars Endorse Detroit Electric

We took a list of 30 fine-quality gas cars. We read their advertisements.

Each of the 30 laid emphasis on the smoothness of its power-flow, the quietness of operation, the economy in oil and gasoline, and the ease with which it handled.

As a matter of fact the trend of all automobile building has been toward these features of performance.

Isn't that fact the biggest tribute that could be paid the Detroit Electric and likewise the biggest endorsement?

For there is no gas car with the wonderful power-flow smoothness of the Detroit Electric, or the operative quiet, or simplicity of operation.

And as for gas and oil, the Detroit Electric does not use any gas and needs but little oil.

We find that gasoline has risen 72% in cost during the past 2 years. But electricity has remained low in cost. $5 to $7 per month pays for a month's current for most owners of Detroit Electrics.

All the facts favor the Detroit Electric as your car.

COUNCILMEN.

The Democratic candidates for councilmen are all well-known men of ability who would serve the city and citizens faithfully and well. All are well-versed with local conditions and they would lend their energies to the end that the city would be better-governed and improvements made consistent with the finances available for that purpose.

Heading the list is R. L. Williams, the well-known Hudson avenue druggist, candidate for president of the city council. Mr. Williams has been in the drug business for 24 years, operating a pharmacy in Hudson avenue for 12 years of that time. He is a polished gentleman, cultured and refined, and at the same time has a keen insight into all business affairs. He would make an ideal presiding officer, one that the citizens of the entire city could be proud of. No voter will ever regret casting a ballot for Mr. Williams, and should he be elevated to the position which he seeks he will give the office all the time and attention which it requires.

Daniel H. Alspach, Peter W. Faust and Louis A. Stare, are the Democratic candidates for council-at-large. All are among the city's best-known men and have an extensive acquaintance. Mr. Alspach for years was a manufacturer of harness, selling the same over a wide territory. At present he is the proprietor of the news and cigar store in the Arcade Annex, and has always taken a deep interest in municipal affairs.

Peter W. Faust is the genial Adams Express agent of this city. He is known among the higher officials of the company as one of the best hustlers in the state. He is a student of economic conditions and has always been interested in anything that would promote the interests of his home city. The voters will make no mistake in electing him to represent the city in the councilmanic body.

Louis A. Stare has had experience in the city, having served previously as a councilman-at-large. He made a splendid official and always faithfully looked after the taxpayers' interests. He made a study of public utilities and is especially versed in paving and sewer work. He is a local contractor and also has an extensive acquaintance over the city.

Ernest Settles, well-known contractor, is the Democratic candidate for councilman of the First ward.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Castor, of the Twins, seen alone in the early evening on the northeastern horizon, where constellation Gemini is rising.

There is no candidate in the Second ward and J. Phil Baker, one of the well-known foremen at Wehrle's, and representative of union labor, is a candidate in the Third ward. Carl S. Yontz is the candidate for councilman in the Fourth ward. He is a plumber by occupation and has had a shop in the West End for a number of years. He is an expert mechanic and would make a valuable acquisition to the body which directs city affairs. George Grindle is a candidate from the Fifth ward, and is one of the city's well-known young men, at present manager of the New York Finance company. He is capable in every way and would make a splendid official. E. L. (Dick) Curry is the candidate from the Sixth ward. Mr. Curry is serving his second term in council at the present time, and the record he has made has induced his friends to urge his candidacy for re-election. He is a painstaking official and his record is one of faithfulness and efficiency. No mistake can be made by the taxpayers in casting their ballots for any of the above candidates.

FOOD CONSERVATION.

Do you know that your household is to be visited this week; that whether you live in Newark, Greenville, Pataskala, Utica, Johnstown, or on one of the out-of-the-way side roads in the county someone is coming to see you concerning something very important? No; it isn't a Red Cross solicitor, nor a Liberty bond enthusiast, either. This time they come to ask you to enlist in an army in which you will stand in the front ranks of government service—food conservation.

How many of us realize fully the necessity and importance of this popular phrase. How many of us are this week to become members of the United States food administration? Are we to stand with our government in giving this important war measure our loyal support?

Will you, housewives, first investigate and learn the significance of your pledge before declining this opportunity which gives you a chance to be, right in your own household, of invaluable service to your country?

Your government asks you to save, to watch your wastes, your garbage cans and to investigate the uses of leftovers. But it urges something just as important, for those of us who have already learned the rudiments of economy. Substitution is a part of this great plan! It means to use in abundance those foods of which our country has an over-production and these in place of the foods of which there is a shortage or for which there are better facilities for shipping. We must export the more concentrated foodstuffs—grain, beef, dairy products and sugar. We at home then should make use of corn products, meat substitutes, potatoes, more vegetables and less sugar. It means but a meager sacrifice and your support means the success of this, next to the greatest of war issues. Can we afford to allow a failure in this measure following the recent success of the Liberty loan?

See to it that your household shares its part of the responsibility. It means results!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

The lecture on Christian Science given before a large audience in Taylor Hall, Sunday evening, was an admirable presentation of the subject. In fact, we are inclined to believe that it was the best address that has ever been given in Newark on the subject. The speaker had close attention throughout his discourse and his audience was largely made up of people from other denominations.

One thing we like about Christian Science is the cheerful, helpful view its adherents take. They look upon the bright side of things. They are optimists. They find no fault with those who do not agree with them and do not criticize those who are inclined to be harsh with them. Service seems to be a keynote of their religion. They are always ready to lend a helping hand in worthy effort and may be counted upon to do their full share. There is an every-day religion, not one-day-a-week. They believe in doing good and they practice what they preach. While one may not agree with the entire formula, nevertheless the fair-minded man and woman must recognize in Christian Science a wonderful force, an honesty of purpose, and an agency that points the way to the best things of life and to the hope of life everlasting.

According to statistics in a war bulletin, issued recently by the National Geographic Society, a first-class private in the United States marine corps serving abroad, draws $41 a year more than a Russian colonel; $64 a year more than a German lieutenant for the first three years; $31 a year more than a first lieutenant of the Austrian army, and $19 a year more than a junior lieutenant in the service of Italy.

FIVE BILLIONS.

The five-billion-dollar Liberty loan has been oversubscribed and there is, naturally, great rejoicing over the fact that more than eight million people have become purchasers of this issue of United States bonds. A billion is such a vast sum that few people realize how great it is. If an expert bank-teller had a billion silver dollars piled up in front of him it would take him, working continually eight hours a day, 103 years to count the money. The Columbus Dispatch puts it in this form:

If you could count one every second continuously, night and day, you would pass the million mark late on the twelfth day. But a billion—that is a thousand millions. At the end of the year, you would have reached, still counting without rest, something over thirty-one millions and to reach one billion you would have to go on counting for more than thirty years. Fortunately, nobody is required to count in that way the billions of dollars that Uncle Sam has borrowed from the people to carry on this war.

AMERICANS IN TRENCHES.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
America promised her allies a fighting army, and makes good. Within six months of the day when the first United States regulars landed on French soil, the nation, despite initial unpreparedness, has been able to put in first line trenches, a body of men who can be trusted to hold them and to advance them toward the German border. It has been able adequately to equip and supply them. It is in position to provide a continual and growing stream of reinforcements. It has created out of nothing that business organization which makes efficient war-making possible. America is ready now.

When war was declared the ranks of the regular army were depleted. It lacked arms, ammunition, supplies. Moreover it lacked even the governmental machinery necessary to the handling and equipment of a great army. The fact that, in these six months, the nation has been able to prepare for real war should bring a glow of pride to every American. The nation must, of course, regret the short-sightedness which made a six months delay inevitable. It can feel only pride in the quick efficiency with which it made ready, once the need became imperative.

The sector of the French front which has been taken over by the American soldiers has been quiet one for many months. One may rest assured that it will not be quiet long. The allies have determined upon a continuous offensive. They plan to bring unending pressure upon the whole of the German line and America is to have its part in creating and maintaining this pressure. Hundreds of thousands of reserves will, of course, be necessary if the United States is to bear its proper share of the burden of freeing French soil of the invader. The government guarantees that they will be on hand when they are needed. The problem of transporting men and supplies is, indeed, of appalling magnitude, but the United States is set to handle it.

The war is our war now as never before. Americans may rejoice in the efficiency which has marked preparations for actual combat. They must prepare now to make that contribution. Every effort of the nation, as of the government, must be directed to the supply and support of the men in France. There are 100,000 Americans in France. One hundred million in America must make their labors and their sacrifice effective.

Those Russian revolutionists who appear to believe government is simply a matter of talking should go out and try their oratory on the advancing Germans.—Kansas City Star.

Interesting Bond Figures.
North Dakota has been making amends for its indifference to the first Liberty Loan and for the folly of some of its political leaders. It took $9,500,000 of the second issue
of bonds, though its allotment was only $6,000,000. Dane county, Wisconsin, where Senator La Follette lives, and within which is the State capital, took almost double its allotment of bonds. The Ninth Reserve district, which includes Northwestern Wisconsin, Minnesota, both the Dakotas and Montana, has taken
several millions more than its allotment of $105,000,000 and some of the estimates are that it has taken $165,000,000 worth. South Dakota, where ex-Senator Pettigrew has been attacking the administration, denouncing the war, and trying to discourage bond sales, was expected to take $10,000,000; it has certainly reached nearly that figure, and may have gone to $12,000,000. It is believed to be certain that Upper Michigan has gone over its allotment,
and Montana, which was asked for $15,000,000, has subscribed more than $18,000,000. — Philadelphia

Me's Going to Work.
Little old Mr. Red Cent is getting ready to do his bit. Beloved of toddlers, the copper has not been popular with full maturity. It has been segregated in a separate compartment of the feminine purse or relegated to the side pocket of the masculine coat. But the new revenue tax is going to work harder than
the very quarters where it was most severely applied. The ultra masculinity that smokes faces the immediate necessity of looking upon the cent as regular money. Cigarettes priced at 5 cents have gone to 6 or 7 cents. Ten-cent brands are now 13 cents. Smoking tobacco has been boosted at the rate of 1 cent
for every 5-cent package. Mr. Red Cent is going to work harder than he ever worked before. He has a new importance as a servant of the public; look upon him with favor.

THE DECORATION OF THE FLEUR DES LYS

(By FLORENCE L. BELL)

Mademoiselle Beranger is not an optimist as to an early termination
of the war.
The patient Pope, and his impotent
efforts for peace, she discussed next morning at breakfast, her feeling expressing itself by mild shrugs and certain gestures of her expressive hands without which French people
can illly explain themselves.

I hasten to add that the firm,
steadfast and big souled Alsatian
character was her native birthright inherited from Alsatian parents. A big sincerity shone out of her frank
blue eyes, and her well-poised head
she carried with a kind of pride
French women are justly feeling in these days.

We, at the little inn, recognized
it and the professors, the university
senior, the southern lady, and the girl of journalistic trend, gave way
to her.

For whether one were majoring in European history, or observing her
as representative of the annexed
booty land, or seeing in her conversation, fertile fields of journalistic story, our friend became to us the gentle and unconscious "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table." The day's news was our piece-de-resistance each new day. By evening we felt more like tea and repartee! Every one turned a listening ear; and at the cost of one's leisure with which sojourners could be spend thrift, she became the center.

When conversation turned upon
things German, and when did it pivot upon any other theme?—her
clear-toned expostives gave no room
for doubtful meaning.

Brought up, where one family, for twenty years her intimates, proved suddenly their foes—spies in the pay of the Imperial German government—she hated with a righteous
hatred the ruler who had foisted customs and language upon a precious strip of France. Her feelings were those of a lifetime.

Les Houches was too mild a title
for such enemies. "Those Huns,"
said with fearful intensity, was better. And when unconsciously the choice epithets could form letters of a beloved brother fighting near Verdun, came out the gentle lady from South Carolina, a self-confessed
clinging vine, moved a little nervously in her chair, and bent her head to escape, mayhap, a possible
second verbal grenade.

Our American patriotism, pure as it was, began to seem a little pale.
"You have brothers—relatives—
in the war?"

Mademoiselle's question had a
cadence and an indefinable pathos,
which affected me. I knew without asking, that she had family, friends
in service.

"None," I answered—"but you?"
"My father is an ambulance
driver; my brother is near, the Verdun line of trenches, and my sister's husband—well, we have never seen him since he joined the colors two months after the war began, 1914.

We had sauntered out, as she spoke, led by the beckon of a lonely September morning. Some gray knitting, some American flags to honor, we were bound on the joyful
quest of country highways.

"Country highways striding down,
In friendship meet in Granville town,"

Sings a home-poet, but the hilltops
and autumn fields called us today.
"Shall we stop for letters?" we asked each other. The village postoffice, that strange church edifice,
whose upper-berth lodges a theater,
and whose lower disgorges mail, rewarded us with a joyful, beaconsred packet.

"Merci—un lettre de mon frere."
She danced it before my eyes, then ripped it open. "Safe again; spared
to me," she murmured. "Safe in Verdun," I thought. Life looks good to her again and we crossed
the road which winds ribbon-like
over the Columbus bridge, the motor-road to town.

Green fields, brown fields, and then a pebbly-path which brought us
to the lookout of Flowerpot Hill,
which gives out toward Valley S. and
to her, perhaps, suggested some fields of France.

"Ecolez! ("Listen!") She suddenly clutched my flag.

"I dropped a stitch," counted
again, and dropped it altogether.
Her face was radiant. "My flag,
your flag," she laughed. "My brother
has hung one before the eyes of those Huns! It is one he has made himself that flag!"

I was as happy as she—"Read it,
give it me," I cried.
The letter written by soldiers'—
candle-trench light, was from near Verdun. Translated, it ran somewhat as follows:

"You can imagine, my dear sister,
our joy and mine especially, at receiving a few months after you saw him in your city, a visit from General Joffre. No longer in active command he, nevertheless, gives happiness a great encouragement of spirit to the men whenever he appears. I was standing at dinner time, near the cooking tent and the great hero of the Marne stopped
just near me. The chief was tasting our soup before serving it. The good general stopped beside the great kettle. "Donnez—merci un
soupeur." (Give me a little). Bah!
It is this, it is not good enough.
"Pour the brasse soldats" (for the brave soldiers). Put in ten pounds of butter. "Ah, my dear, then it was broth to make a fellow glad.
It tasted of some richness, and it
savored of his generosity. "Vive le general," we cried. We threw our caps high in air. He shook hands with me for some trifling service to the wounded my office had related.

Mon dieu, I felt happy. It was as good as an iron cross, that smile.
He waved a warm adieu and motored
off down the white long dusty road to

My flag! I thought I wrote you about it, and your long-delayed letter of June 25 followed me from base hospital 1, to this post where we know not from day to day what our orders or fate may be.

Well, you can know what a frenzy of delight our men were thrown into over the news that the United States had joined us as allies. Of that I've written you, however. But when your little silk flag fell out of that last letter 'we laughed to see what an absurdity our own made in the trenches of scraps, looked beside it! The courage, the esprit, the morale, which that word
of your president gave us: "Safe for democracy is our watchword, since
it signifies the great united purpose
of all the Allies."

So we longed to make a flag since
we had none then to fling before the unbelieving eyes of our German
enemies in the near-trenches opposite.
I thought it would be simple to make that American flag, and my comrades said: "You've had one on your mantel these many summers
when your sister has been home. So I began. I did not have any idea of the right number of spots to cut out of our handkerchiefs. So I cut many. I did not know how many stripes of red and white to make out of our tri-color. I made ten.
Is that right? And the field of blue
I ran across the top of the flag, but it did not go right. We sewed those spots on by knots of thread—like
stars in the dark night of our despair
they came to us. And as I finished the ploop of a bomb sounded near
and the light of an enemy Zeppelin
came over our trench.

I hope it was enough to show the Fritz who dropped his man-killing shell, the color of our star-spangled banner. Though I did not know then, enough to call it by its glorious name.

We waved it on our bayonet next morning tho' at every German eye
we caught across the distance which divides us. God bless the land you live in—long may she live to help to victory your native land, our France.

The State War
Board Today Says

Since the war began, alien influences in this country have been busy trying to create disension and distrust among our citizens. They have sought to discourage enlistment
and to interfere with the sale of Liberty Bonds.

This quiet and insidious effort to mislead and interfere with Uncle Sam's war program has failed, except in a few localities. These same disturbers and propagandists may be expected to attempt to discourage
the loyal American housewives in the program of food conservation.

Do not be deceived by reports
from the enemy that signing the food pledge card "binds you to a program of starvation," or that "the government is going to confiscate
your private food supply."

These lies will be nailed when the great masses of loyal American housewives send word to our President through the pledge cards, that they stand ready to "do their bit" by saving food that our soldiers and sailors of our allies may not fight
in vain.

Silliness—"That Chicago woman has divorced five husbands. She has a great many admirers." Critics—
"I'll venture to say she has five less than she used to have."

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Don't Stay Headachy, Sick, or Have Bad Breath and Sour Stomach.

Wake Up Feeling Fine! Best Laxative for Men, Women and Children.

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest gentler liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They are so gentle, you can hardly realize you have taken cathartics. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time they act thoroughly and are harmless. (Adv.)

MILLIONS PLEDGE ECONOMY IN FOOD

Washington, Oct. 30.—Results of the first day of the Food Pledge week campaign, so far as shown by returns to campaign headquarters
here, are 666,402 new cards signed.
These, added to the 740,692 cards
already in the hands of the food administration before the present food pledge week campaign began, make
a total of 2,407,094 pledges of persons who have agreed to observe the advice and directions of the food administration in the conduct of their kitchens and dining rooms as their personal contribution towards victory in the war.

Those in charge of the campaign
here are elated over the showing of the first day, not so much on account of the figures themselves, although these already total almost a fourth of the minimum goal of ten million
families which has been set as an account of the certainty of complete success which they draw from these first returns. The returns come from comparatively few states, since in the majority of states the campaign
is only getting fairly under way and definite reports were impossible. In no case, however, was there any indication except that the expectations
of the campaign headquarters would be more than fulfilled.

FAMINE IN PENNIES STRIKES NEW YORK

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
New York, Oct. 30.—New York
faces a famine in pennies and the shortage has proved so embarrassing
to Martin Vogel, assistant treasurer
of the United States that he is considering an appeal to the city's children to empty their savings banks
in order to increase the number in circulation.

Ordinarily the government carries
ten million pennies in stock at the sub-treasury in Wall street, but the institution is now swept clear of its last copper, for the first time in the recollection of the officials.

Bankers explain the sudden popularity of the penny on the ground of increases for articles selling for odd amounts. Cigars, cigarettes, milk and many other articles which used to be priced with the nickel as the unit
have been advanced by a cent or two,
with the result that dealers' requirements for small change have been augmented.

No relief has been obtained from Philadelphia, for the government mints are short. The mints are now working day and night in an effort
to meet the demand.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, Oct. 30.—Mrs. M. E.
Stickney, president of the Travelers'
club, who attended the convention
of the Ohio Federation in Akron
last week, made her report Monday afternoon before a large number of active and associate members, with their guests. The delegate was able to present a synopsis of the program
in a delightfully colloquial manner.
The salient points in the various speeches were brought to the home club in a most satisfactory way. One of the high spots in her observations
seemed to have been the address of Mrs. Harold Peckham, an English woman married to a Canadian, who has crossed the ocean four times in the course of their war service. The attitude of the English toward their soldiers strikes one as beautiful.

"Co-operation, concentration, conservatism," seems to be the slogan
over there. At noon each day, every one pauses for five minutes to send a good thought to the soldiers
at the front, a thought of hope of courage and of sympathy. Her talk occupied about one hour and a quarter, following which the Round Table
was led by Mrs. William E. Hopkins on the topic, "Women's Work
A World Wide View," assisted by Mrs. Hamblen, who spoke on the woman in Japan; Mrs. Tuttle on Assam; Mrs. Moody on Africa; Mrs.
Hopkins herself on the woman in India, all four having worked among the women of the respective countries assigned to them.

A former resident of Granville,
now living on Long Island, writes
that the Jamaica Theatre (the population of Jamaica estimated at some 30,000) devoted one night last week to the Liberty Bond campaign.
Twelve bonds were issued, one to the buyer of a theatre ticket, whose numbered coupon corresponded with
the one drawn from a box on the stage where all the bank people sat,
and the second to the buyer of a bond whose corresponding number was drawn. The first was won by an American soldier in khaki and as he went onto the stage to receive it,
the crowd enthusiastically applauded;
the second was won by a woman named Kaiser! and the house rocked with laughter when his name was read.

Miss Rachel Colwell, head of the domestic science department in the University of West Virginia at Morgantown, spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R.
S. Colwell. Miss Colwell has been appointed by Herbert Hoover as director of economies for West Virginia, an honor highly deserved by the recipient and appreciated by her
friends.

Mrs. Ada Jones Pausch of Berkeley, Cal., who has been visiting at the home of her nieces, Misses Gwen and Margaret Watkins on the Newark road, left yesterday for a visit with friends in Tennessee.

Mrs. T. G. Field has returned from a visit with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brown, at their home just out Toledo.

Mrs. R. S. Colwell has returned from a ten days' trip to the coast
where she visited her daughter,
Margaret, in the Connecticut College for Women, her mother, Mrs.
W. P. Kerr in Boston, and her son,
Prof. W. A. Colwell in Brooklyn.

Miss Anna Peckham of the mathematics department of Dartmouth,
is enjoying a visit from her sister, Miss Peckham of Newark, R. I.

ARE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES FRAUDULENT?

Undoubtedly, there may be some
that are, but on the other hand,
there are many proprietary remedies
that are as good as any prescription
that any present day physician
can write, and in thousands of homes
you will find these old, reliable remedies in every day use with satisfactory results. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, for nearly 40 years,
has been alleviating the suffering of womanhood, and overcoming some of the most serious ailments of her sex.
If you are suffering from any of the ailments of women, just give this medicine a trial and prove its worth
for yourself.—Advertisement.

Overworked Women must learn not to neglect their health

How Women are Restored to Health

Spartanburg, S. C.—"For nine years I suffered from backache, weakness, and irregularities so I could hardly do my work. I tried many remedies but found no permanent relief. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great change for the better and am now well and
strong as I have no trouble in doing my work.
I hope every user of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will get as great relief
as I did from its use."—Mrs. S. D. McABEE, 121 Dewey Ave., Spartanburg, S. C.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief.
My weakness has completely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 115 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jos.
O'BRYEN, 1703 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

SPEED OF TANLAC IMPRESSES ERMAN

Arcade Druggist Comments Upon
Brilliant Success Master Medicine Achieved Last Saturday.

Tanlac proved a headliner at Er-
man's Arcade drug store Saturday.
At the closing hour, 10 p. m., Druggist Erman remarked: "I say this has been a banner day for Tanlac."
That Tanlac is a strong favorite with dyspeptic, nervous men and women cannot be disputed. Bessie Coner, 109 Jackson street, Newark,
says, "I have used Tanlac for stomach trouble with splendid success. It has not only relieved me of sour stomach, bloating and palpitation,
but my nerves are improved, I sleep
better and am a great deal stronger."
Tanlac also drove away that tired feeling, gave me an appetite and put color in my face. My health's really excellent now."

Tanlac, the new vegetable tonic,
stomachic, appetizer, combatant, and
invigorator, is being specially introduced at Erman's Arcade drug store.
Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans' pharmacy, (Warden Hotel block, east side square), Newark, and
at the Hebron drug store, Hebron, Ohio.—Advertisement.

NEWARK SOLDIERS IN REVIEW BEFORE OHIO COURT JUDGES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Oct. 30.—Members of the Ohio supreme court paid their respects at Camp Sherman yesterday and in honor of the visit Major General E. F. Glenn and his staff arranged a review of the artillery brigade made up of the Three Hundred and Twenty-second and Three Hundred and Twenty-third and Three Hundred and Twenty-fourth Regiments, the trench mortar battery and machine gun battalion.

The review was one of the best bits of military work that has been staged at Camp Sherman in the view of officers, and fortunately it was over just before a terrific rain and hailstorm that swept the camp at 3 o'clock. The soldiers were back in barracks and members of the party were at Colonel Ashburn's headquarters when the storm broke.

In the party were Chief Justice Hugh Nichols and Justices Wamman, Newman, Jones, Matthias, Johnson and Donahue, several of them being accompanied by their wives.

After paying a visit to the headquarters of Major General Glenn, Colonel Ashburn escorted the party through the barracks of the Three Hundred and Twenty-fourth Heavy Artillery, where the selective draft soldiers were just sitting down to mess. Colonel Ashburn then had the party take mess in officers' quarters of the Three Hundred and Twenty-fourth, where a reception was held when General and Mrs. Glenn arrived.

The storm, late in the day, was followed by cold blasts from the west and the camp prepared immediately for a siege of cold weather which the weather man promised is in store. It was said today that the coal supply is considerably better and that more will be coming in steadily, so no fears are entertained if real winter does break during the week.

Negro selective draft men numbering 1700 were ordered today, including the first contingent of Oklahomans, a number from Columbus and Cincinnati and Hamilton, Butler, Brown and Clermont counties and 39 from western Pennsylvania. Another contingent of Oklahomans was due tonight, but was delayed. This is the special train of negroes who were in a wreck near Lebanon, Mo., in which a number were badly injured.

There is a splendid class of negroes in this far and officers are far more pleased with them than they have expected they would be. The majority of negroes are from farming sections, who make fine soldiers, experienced officers say.

The Three Hundred and Twenty-fourth Regiment of Heavy Field Artillery has received word that "Columbus day" will be celebrated here Nov. 7. Mayor Karb and several hundred Columbus people will come to visit the Columbus selects on that day. Immediate plans were made to give the visitors a "soldiers' dinner" and to hold a "stunt program" in the Central Y. M. C. A. Auditorium in the evening. A regimental review probably will be held in the afternoon.

Other cities of the state are arranging to have "days" in camp when they will visit their selects. Usually these visits are looked forward to by the draftees, for it means heavily-laden baskets of good things to eat of the sort that "mother used to make."

Ohio selective draft soldiers are going to do their voting Thursday. The job is to be started and finished in one day at the instance of Major General E. F. Glenn. Many of the election officials who will be in charge already are in Chillicothe and the remainder will be here today and tomorrow.

The problem of sheltering and feeding the election judges and clerks practically has been settled through activity of Assistant General Gimpelinger, who induced a local hotel to house two thirds of the party of 150. The voting will be done with a fair touch of military discipline. There will be no loafing, electioneering and button holding. Those men who expect to vote will be voted as they do other military things. It is the only way such a big number can be handled in a single day.

Five officers and several non-commissioned officers and privates are preparing to move to Camp Perry in the next few days to start target practice, relieving a detail of like number who have been there two weeks. It was announced today that no more men will be sent there after the first thousand has been schooled, as the new rifle range for Camp Sherman will be finished by mid-November.

Officers today are congratulating Captain Ward Dahney upon his promotion to major. The promotion dates back to August 7, but the formal message has just been received. Captain Dahney was the constructing quartermaster and the man who represented the government in the building of the big cantonment here. In a few days he will officially turn Camp Sherman over to Major General Glenn as a finished and complete military camp. It has been under his control since the day ground was broken in June.

Lieutenant Pickard of the French army, who was a newspaper man in New York and later a warrior in Flanders for 27 months, and who now is in the United States recovering from rheumatism brought on from exposure, arrived yesterday and has started a series of lectures in Y. M. C. A. butts throughout camp.

Five officers and several non-commissioned officers of the French army are expected here daily. It was announced today at division headquarters. They are to be instructors in trench and other warfare.

getting their taste of trench digging this week. The whole regiment is booked for the toll and next week the 231st regiment will start the same sort of work. Later the 332nd will be at it. A battalion front trench system is being laid out and as soon as completed trench workers will be practicing in it, a battalion of troops occupying the field for several days at a time under "war conditions" minus actual fire. They will eat and sleep and have their provisions brought up to the trenches just as though they were in the war zone.

Artillery regiments will get a taste of much the same sort of work this week, save they will construct gun emplacements, shelter for men and ammunition, etc.

One of our big league ball players had been going back for some time, no matter how hard he tried he could not get his old time Pep and Ginger into the game. It was up hill work all the time. He was one of those honest hard working fellows and it finally got his "goat," his nerves went bad, he commenced to run down, could not eat or sleep and kept steadily slipping. Doctors and medicines were of no help.

One of his many admirers said to him, "Why not try Phosphated Iron, everybody is boosting it." Gasping at the last straw, the poor fellow took a try at it. The way he came back was an "eye opener," he was there in every department of the game, his nerves were like iron, he could hit the ball and was no time getting back to the three hundred mark, while his base running and fielding were great.

Discussing the matter with our reporter he said, "Would you believe it, I could feel the iron charging my blood with health and strength, while the way the phosphates steamed and renewed by nerve force was almost too great to believe. Phosphated Iron took hold of me right from the start and sure did make a new man of me, and you can bet I carry a good supply on all my trips."

Doctors will tell you that you must have plenty of Iron and Phosphates in your system, for you want pure red blood and steady nerves. If you are tired and has that "all in" feeling should try Phosphated Iron and you will never be without it again.

Special Notice—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets. Insist on the genuine in capsules only. Evans' Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Clarence Campbell, an ebony-hued gentleman from Nashville, Tenn., and an employee of the Federal Asphalt Company, with offices above the Baumham fruit store in West Main street, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by Mayor R. C. Higgins on the charge of appropriating from his employees, four new non-skid "flak" tires.

The fellow was seen coming through the court house park Friday night about 12:40 by Patrolman Buhler. Campbell had two tires over his shoulder and was taking them to his boarding place to hide them. When approached by the patrolman he dropped the tires and started to sprint. Buhler fired at him and the fellow dropped. Buhler ran up to him and he jumped an exhausted another marathon and was after caught by Buhler and Patrolman Harter.

Saturday two more tires were found at Andrews boarding house in Monroe street and were hid in an outbuilding.

IS IT A CURE FOR ASTHMA?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant Relief.

In New England, where Asthma, Bronchitis and other diseases of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidase, a physician's prescription.

Oxidase is a harmless but powerful combination of curative agents concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets slowly dissolved in the mouth before going to bed seems to have the effect of releasing the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes opening up the air passages and regulating spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including W. A. Erman, Evans' Drug Store, have secured a supply and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if in any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidase is pleasant to take, contains no harmful habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter.—Advertisement.

RHEUMATISM IS A WEATHER PROPHET

More Prevalent Than for Many Years—Indicates Changes of Temperature an Immediate Cause.

When rheumatism fastens on an individual he generally knows what the trouble is. The inflammation, soreness, pain, swelling joints and backache, with loss of motion, only indicate the presence of the disease. Physicians differ as to the cause, but all agree that rheumatism is caused by poison getting into the system. Cold and moisture, with sudden changes of temperature, cause aggravated attacks and intense suffering. The first twinge of pain or stiffness of muscles demands quick action. Don't suffer a minute; get from T. J. Evans or any druggist a bottle of Rheumatism. It's a great specialist's prescription which gives relief in all forms of rheumatism. It brings swollen joints down to normal, relieves the pain, and restores the whole system with out the least injury to the heart. This two weeks' treatment is inexpensive and your money will be returned if you do not get the joyful relief anticipated.—Advertisement.

(Political Advertisement.) Elmer W. Jordan, the Independent candidate for Mayor, came from Marietta, Ohio, to Pataaskala, Ohio, this county, in 1910. He served for four years as superintendent of the Pataaskala schools. In 1914 he was elected the first County Superintendent of Licking County under the new school law, which position he held for two years. He moved to Newark that year, and he purchased property from Edward Kibler at 177 Ninth street, where he now resides. He has lived in this city something over three years and it is his permanent home.

Mr. Jordan has served in the capacity of superintendent of schools for 16 years. His work has been recognized by the educational leaders of the state as being of a high order. In 1915 he served as president of the State Elementary Teachers' Federation, a fact which shows Mr. Jordan's attitude toward organized labor. Since accepting this position he has been tendered a splendid position but he says he is in this fight to win or lose and he confidently awaits the verdict of the people. 20-11

Why does a painter dip his cut hand in turpentine?

Simply because he knows that Turpentine goes into every nook and corner of the wound, sterilizes it, leaving it wholesome, clean and in the right condition for rapid healing. Grandmother used Turpentine to allay infection, to relieve colds, headaches, pains and many other troubles. It burnt and it smelled but it was an unusually effective remedy just the same.

TURPO

is the modern form of Turpentine. It will do just the same things only better, because it also contains Menthol and Camphor, two other old-time remedies. Turpo hasn't a bite, nor a sting. It is a pure, golden, delightful-smelling salve that is perfectly safe to use and that stands in a class by itself among household remedies. It is the only Turpentine Ointment.

You can get Turpo for your druggist for 25c, 50c and $1 a jar. If he won't supply you, send us his name and address and we'll send you a sample free.

Turpo is a fine remedy for:

cuts, scratches, burns, sores, wounds, rough or chapped skin, lameness, sore joints, sunburn, insect bites, ivy poisoning, piles, pimples, etc.

Turpo is a ready relief for all kinds of colds, catarrh, hay fever, spasmodic croup, whooping cough, headache, earaches, neuralgia, lumbago, pleurisy, etc.

Countess Charming

A Paramount Picture
By GARDNER HUNTING
From the Story By Gelett Burgess and Carolyn Wells
Directed By Donald Crisp

Mr. Eltinge has won fame and a host of friends as the greatest impersonator of women in the world. He looks like a girl, speaks like a girl, you can't tell him from a girl.

HIS SWEETHEART DID NOT KNOW HIM as the Russian Countess in this brilliant play of fun, farce and action. Crowds yesterday delighted.

SEE HIM TODAY—TOMORROW AUDITORIUM

NOTE—On and after THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1ST, the United States Government levies a tax of 10 per cent on all admissions, or passes, which tax the law requires SHALL BE PAID BY THE PURCHASER OF THE TICKET.

Coming Thursday—"THE LONE WOLF"

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.
"The Countess Charming."
Despite the bad wet weather yesterday good crowds saw Julian Eltinge, world's famous female impersonator, make his first screen appearance at the Auditorium yesterday. Eltinge has had one of the most picturesquely meteoric careers of the theatrical world. From a small position as a clerk in a wholesale house in Boston, he has risen to be one of the highest paid actors on the stage. For many of his vaudeville engagements, Mr. Eltinge received $1000 a week, while the sum he is receiving for his motion picture work is even more astounding. In "The Countess Charming" he has a great chance to show his cleverness and he surely does it. The cast is good, containing some of the best lights of the screen world. For a good hearty laugh we would say this feature either today or tomorrow.

"Mutt and Jeff Divorced," at The Auditorium Saturday, Matinee and Night.

show his cleverness and he surely does it. The cast is good, containing some of the best lights of the screen world. For a good hearty laugh we would say this feature either today or tomorrow.

"The Lone Wolf."
Thursday and Friday another wonderful feature picture is promised Auditorium picture fans in Herbert Brenson's masterpiece "The Lone Wolf." The story is thrilling from start to finish and many of the scenes shown are sure to make you hold fast to your seats. The story tells of Marcel, a founding who saves Burke, a clever crook, from the police, and Burke adopts him and teaches him his profession. Burke is killed through the treachery of an accomplice, Eckstrom. Marcel becomes a master criminal and takes the name of Michael Lanyard. The police call him "The Lone Wolf." Lanyard receives word from a gang of criminals calling themselves "The Pack" that he will be killed unless he joins them.

Mutt and Jeff.
The big laugh success of the year is "Mutt and Jeff Divorced" coming to the Auditorium Saturday with a matinee and night performance. The greatest of all sure fire cartoon characters, Mutt and Jeff, in their newest misadventures are reported a scream from start to finish. This time the long and short freaks get mixed up in divorce proceedings, all on account of a demure little girl of the school age type entrusted to their care by an aunt. Mrs. Mutt and Mrs. Jeff misunderstand matters, and the complications starting at this angle pile up until the two principals are warring all the time. Seats for both performances go on sale Thursday at 10 a. m.

Theater Admission Tax Explained.
To answer questions repeatedly asked of Mr. Penberg, the Auditorium regarding the new admission tax, he has arranged for this paper following text of the entire explanation:

Q. When must the tax be collected?
A. On all tickets sold for the matinee on Thursday, November 1st, 1937, and every performance thereafter on advance sales made prior to Nov. 1st for the performance after Nov. 1st the tax to be collected the time of the sale.

Q. Who pays the tax?
A. The purchaser of ticket or tickets.

Q. Must holders of passes pay the tax?
A. Yes, they pay the tax when the pass is presented and exchanged for a seat, but bona fide employees of the theater, municipal officers on official business and children under 12 years of age when entering on a pass need not pay a tax.

Q. What is the amount of the tax?
A. It is net 10 per cent of the price of the ticket. It is one cent for each ten cents or a fraction of ten cents. In other words it is:

(1) 1c on a .10 ticket.
(2) 2c on a .15 ticket.
(3) 3c on a .25 ticket.
(4) 4c on a .35 ticket.
(5) 5c on a .50 ticket.
(6) 8c on a .75 ticket.
(7) 10c on a $1.00 ticket.

Where children under 12 years of age are admitted and their tickets paid for, the tax is one cent per ticket regardless of the price of the ticket.

Q. If a purchaser buys two 75 cent tickets, the total price therefor being $1.50 does the purchaser pay 15c or 16c?
A. The purchaser pays 16c. The tax is on each ticket separately and not on the aggregate amount paid by the purchaser.

Q. What tax does the holder of a pass pay?
A. Under the law his pass is based upon the regular price of the ticket he receives. If he were paying for it instead of getting it for nothing, so if he received a ticket or pass to a ten cent show he would pay 1c on a 15c show 2c on a 25c show 3c on a 35c

CAMPAIGN ROORBACK

On the eve of election one of the leading candidates on the Republican ticket is resorting to the old time worn
 roorback, promise of political preference by his chief opponent.

I know that the voters will not be misled by such cheap
 political subterfuge. He is making the statement in public places and on the street that "Atherton has promised the two directorships in advance of the election." In some instances he even names who is to receive the preference.
 If I am called upon to make the appointment I can assure the public that I will not take the aforesaid candidate into my confidence and it is truly remarkable how he can prophesy my intentions thus far in advance. Second sight
 though is attributed to many men and various things.

I wish to say to all interested, if I am called upon to make such appointments, any applicant will receive just consideration by filing his application within ten days
 after election.

My policy is not to make any promises to any man or body of men, and any reports that I have made promises of appointments is false. I shall choose men who in my estimation have the best ability to give the city an economic administration, and have them surround themselves with
 able assistants and workers, to the end that such purpose
 may be accomplished.

MAY DEPORT ITALIAN FOR

SERVICE IN KING'S ARMY

(Associated Press Telegram)
 Chicago, Oct. 30.—The case of Count James Minotto, son in law
 of Louis F. Swift, millionaire packer,
 who is accused of pro-German activities, is today in the hands of Dr.
 Percy L. Prentiss, local head of the federal immigration bureau. He is expected to decide both on Minotto's
 loyalty to this country and his citizenship. Minotto claims to be a citizen of Italy, born in Berlin. His father being an Italian and his mother a German.

If Dr. Prentiss decides against Mi-notto, and is upheld by the commissioner of immigration on the question of his liability "to become a public charge" and his citizenship, he may be interned. If it is held that he is an Italian he may be sent to Italy for military service.

Henry Veeder, an attorney who represents Minotto in the hearing,
 which is to be held soon, refused today to concede that the hearing involved the question of his client's liberty.

The department of labor has outlined its case against Minotto in a statement in which attention is called to his German birth, his connection
 with German banking houses,
 his association with Germans abroad
 especially in South America, where he is said to have been on intimate terms with Count von Luxburg, the German ambassador to Argentina,
 whose intrigues recently threatened
 the neutrality of Sweden. Count von Seebeck and Otto Kuhn, both interned
 in New York as enemy aliens, are also counted among Minotto's close
 friends.

Minotto, through his attorney, has made categorical denial of all the government charges.
